CHRISTMAS CONCERT

General Chairman By Gibbs advises that arrangements are progressing smoothly for the big Community Concert to be held in the Town Plaza on Friday, December 16th.

A Mass chorus of more than 150 voices will sing Christmas carols under the direction of Earl Lapp. Sid Gordon will lead the Healdsburg High School Band. A selection will be rendered by that celebrated male quartet, the Four Sharps. Then Santa Claus will be ushered in with presents for the children.

The concert starts at 7:00 P.M. and ends at 7:30, so don't be late. KGRO will broadcast the program on the following day.

HAPPY LANDINGS

Have you congratulated Brent Aikin on the arrival of a son? Or were you there in spirit only when the cigars were passed?

Jim Clarke proudly announces the arrival of a daughter-in-law, bride of his son, Jim, Jr. Jim is now an engineer on the staff of the Kaiser Steel Company in Fontana.

COMMITTEE ON NEW HOUSING

This committee reported to the Board of Directors last Tuesday on the various locations available for our weekly luncheons when it becomes necessary to vacate the Legion Hall.

The Board decided that the most convenient place for everybody concerned would be the Parrish Hall recently built by St Paul's Episcopal Church. No date has yet been set for the move, but it will probably take place within the next four month's.

THIS WEEK

Program Chairman Lee Sayre has assembled a large staff of interesting speakers for this pre-Christmas meeting.

Four teenagers, local winners of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce public speaking contest will each talk 5 minutes on the subject "I speak for Democracy". They are Nancy Hollingsworth, Merle Roberts, John Petersen, and Dianne Smith. Nancy Hollingsworth also won the area contest at Santa Rosa and will go to Sacramento to compete in the state wide contest.

Rev. Martin Crabb will speak on the meaning of Christmas.

LYTTON CHRISTMAS PARTY

We wish to thank Heber Sainsburg for a fine turkey dinner and the boys and girls who waited on table for taking such good care of their guests. The Lytton Choir put on a fine performance as usual. The candle parade went through without mishap, although the girl's candles and hair were perilously close at times.

BOYS CLUB

The annual Christmas party for the boys, featuring hot dogs and soft drinks, took place at the Elementary School yesterday evening. The boys used to get turkey until last year, when the Committee learned that hot dogs were more popular.

THIS WEEK

Clint Robinson has a film showing what the Kiwanis Club of Seattle is doing in the field of Cerebral Palsy.

Bob Hope, who has not as yet shown any need for assistance of this kind, narrates the film.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

The next special event in our program is the installation of Ted Kellogg and his officers for 1956. The date is Tuesday, January 10th and it will be a Ladies Night.

Time and place have not yet been announced. Our hunch is that we will dine in the main Legion Hall at 7:30 P.M., to give our out-of-town guests time to drive to Healdsburg.

OAK MOUND CEMETERY

A little known activity of one of our members should receive recognition as it exemplifies a good Kiwanian in action.

Ed Quinn has given himself the task of caring for the oldest part of the local cemetery, which has been neglected for years. It has taken many hours of hard labor to clear the brush around the monuments of the Healds, Powells, Tuckers and other early settlers whose plots are in this area.

KIWANIS BOWLING TEAM

With Tom Beahm bowling his best game of the season, our team moved up to 4th place in the Business Men's League last Tuesday, winning all 3 games.

The scores:

	1st	2nd	3rd	Total
Waldo Iversen	95	139	143	395
Byron Gibbs	134	139	165	438
Bernal VanCleave	134	99	123	356
