THE HEALDSBURG KIWANIS CLUB

BELLOW KIWANIAN:

To day is Tuesday. The day which means so much to this Healdsburg Club of ours. The day when we meet and greet - and eat. The day when 40 representatives of our community assemble to do their bit for their home locality and for their own enlightenment and entertainment. Come to day, come always.

FARMERS DAY:

Wasn't that an ideal gathering last week? Twenty five substantial guests "from hillside and from dale". Men of worthy calling, tillers of the soil, backbone of America. Let us repeat this day more often. Mr. Stokayk's talk was full of interest and well suited to the occasion.

WALTER CHRISTIE:

He is coming to day. Eddie Beeson brings him. "Doc" is the Chairman, "Walt" the Speaker. A great athlete and a great coach; and both of indelible U.C. traditions. Come to hear a sound argument on the physical training of the youth, or the value of athletics, or something on this order from a man of the experience of Walter Christie.

ROE FULKERSON:

Who is he? How many Healdsburg Kiwanians read the Kiwanis Magazine? It's just too bad. Roe is the Will Rogers of Kiwanis. The very tall, lanky, marble-topped, but suave philosopher and clown of our organization. He's at every big convention. When Harold Miller sees him he'll never forget him. When you read his Personal Page in the Kiwanis Magazine you'll want to read it next month, and the next. Soon you'll be reading the whole magazine. Then you'll catch the full spirit of Kiwanis. Read Roe, and regret NOT.

FELLOW KIWANIAN: Walter Christie proved to be his old time
----- self. Whether on the coaching line, or addressing a group of men, Walt is full of pep and power and punch.
No wonder our own Ed and Fred made their mark on the track under the whip of this He Man. His talk on athletes and athletics smacked of him who can punctuate with strong adjectives with telling effect.

Music Week was not forgotten. Nor shall we soon forget the fine talent of our boys and girls from the public schools, under the leadership of Mrs. Keesling.

DONALD D. CONN: Now comes Joe Miller, Chairman of the Day, with ----- this headliner for this Tuesday noon. It's just one big gun after another these days, it would seem. This man Conn is the last word in all that pertains to the vineyard industry. Subject: Stabilization in the Grape Control Contract.
Kiwanians, one and all, call in your friends from the vineyards, from the highways and the byways, and let them, together with ourselves hear the message of Donald Conn.

And give heed to the following instruction: Each member is to notify Russ Stevens, Phone 51, BY MONDAY NOON on the name of his vineyard guest. Important, urgent, necessary.

PERSONAL AND PERTINENT: At last city and country are coming ----- together. Thanks to Kiwanis.

Let's pull now for the Kiwanis Show.

Attendance for April 95%. Who lost the five per cent?
What about that National Guard unit for Healdsburg?

Weather, fair and warmer. Crops looking better. Finis.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

5 - 27 - 30

FELLOW KIWANIAN:

FRED KINLEY AND CHARLIE COMSTOCK ARE THE UNDEFEATED CHAMPION ENTERTAINMENT PROMOTORS OF THE WORLD. That extravaganza was a specialty of first magnitude. Dont blame the cow. The little Jersey had a right to register her protest against being ushered into strange surroundings. Or, had she been well coached.

The announced part of the program was well received. The talk by Mr. Werner, as the Tribune put it, was "packed full of human interest".

TO DAY: Roy Haley is the Chairman. His speaker is another disciple of the Bank of Italy, Mr. P. M. Harwood, Trust Officer of this institution. Subject : Life Insurance as Relates to Trusts. A unique attendance prize. Roy insists there will be no startling stunt, -just an honest-to-goodness speech minus all impromptu stuff.

STOCK SHOW: Very creditable, Doc, and a good starter for future events. We should applaud those boys from the schools, also their instructors, upon their interest in farming pursuits which mean so much to this agricultural section.

AN ORIENTAL YANK: Unlike the above, this is to be an all-human show of Kiwanis calibre. Forty brisky boosters all on their toes should make for a full house. We need the punch of every man. Put on a campaign, Gents, before the Chamber of Commerce gets all the dough. Fred Cairns, this means you, too.

NEVER TOO LATE: This is a hearty welcome, a little tardy, to Fred and Iver. Two brand new birds from the wingless flock of townsmen, who are now Good Kiwanians of the Healdsburg Club. Makes 40, all told. Coming up.

Secretary.
