Last week's meeting:

Guests: Palo Alto Inter Club, Ralph White, Elie Monarch, Bernard Coley, and Bryn Ostby. Good to see you! Bill McNeany, guest of Rich Lehrmann. Tom Cubberly, guest of Joe Coppa and Club

Happy and Sad Dollars: Bob Malone happy to have caught a 34 pound salmon. Tad Curtis happy. Al Rochester, again good fishing (no 34 pounder, though). Joe Coppa happy for Bob Malone. Rich Lehrmann, happy or sad? Tom Rackerby happy now an official resident of Healdsburg. Bob Young, happy Fred's wife pregnant.

Board of Directors: 1. Upcoming officers and Board and current Board voted for a multi-year commitment to the Kiwanis/Rotary family Park (The new picnic area at Villa Chanticleer) as an on-going major emphasis project. $4000 is allocated to spend on needed items. Volunteers will be needed. 2. Secretary Mark McCoppin reported on the poor attendance at meetings this year. The Kiwanis By-Laws state that anyone missing 4 successive meetings or 40% of meetings in 6 months without adequate excuse is to be notified of suspension, and reinstated upon approval of the Board. Action on members in dire violation was that they were to be contacted and that action would be taken at the next Board meeting as to their responses. 3. Delinquent dues are of concern and the Board approved a crackdown on those members who are delinquent more than one quarter. 4. Lake Sonoma Winery is hosting a 15 year anniversary event on August 28 and 29 to raise monies for the Music departments of the Healdsburg and Geyserville High Schools. It was decided that the Kiwanis Clubs of both Healdsburg and Geyserville would be co-sponsors and provide volunteers. A percent of the money raised would be channeled through Kiwanis to distribute to the music departments of the High Schools.

Announcements: Ralph White and the members of the Palo Alto Club produced a banner saying "Happy 70th Birthday" to our Club and gave a good "Happy Birthday". Ted Etheredge announced that they need volunteers to paint benches in the Plaza. Those interested contact Ted.

Birthday: Tom Rackerby.

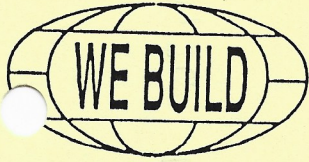

Fines: Lou Sbrana and Pres. Kurt for missing guests. Ted Etheridge for his picture in So. Co. Magazine. Mike Mojica for something. Vince Dougherty for a baseball trivia question.

Program: Vince Dougherty introduced Eric Drew who spoke on the status of Fitch Mountain. He presented a video and slides on the effort to have this valuable property purchased by the Open Space District to conserve it in perpetuity. As it stands now, the District has in essence approved purchase of the mountain. However, the Open Space district can buy property but cannot preserve or maintain it. They need someone, possibly the City, County, or State parks to provide this service. The Land Trust, who can not only acquire but maintain and operate as well, is also a consideration.

Last week's meeting

Guest: Joe Palla, Chief of Police, guest of Rick Alves
Happy and sad dollars: Earl Cook, happy to have made the front page of the newspaper, sad for the Zimmerman's for loss of their son. Fred Haley, happy to be able to sit in Ken Turnbow's seat. Vince Dougherty and Al Rochester, happy dollars. Dale Lynch, happy to report fishing in Mexico with 26 guys, caught 256 blue fin tuna averaging 55 pounds each. Rich Alves, happy a grandfather. Francis Passalacqua, happy Elsie, his wife for 59 years, recovered from a recent illness.

Announcements: In lieu of the regular meeting, the installation of the new officers will be held at the Villa on Tuesday evening, September 28, 1993. Vince Dougherty announced for Jack Brandt that the Geyserville Kiwanis Club is having their annual steak and corn on the cob dinner on July 29th at the Vineyards. Ladies night. Vince has tickets. Call Dave Loops, 857-3320, for further information. Jack says, how about and interclub.

Birthdays: Wayne Carr, Joe Coppa, Barkley Nalley. Wayne asked for regular rendition a cappella, Joe for the tall men, Steve Tice, Wayne Carr, and Ed Collins to sing for him, and Barkley for Francis Passalacqua to sing Happy Birthday in Italian. All renditions were some of the best!

New member: Tom Cuberly inducted by Earl Cook, sponsored by Joe Coppa. Welcome to the Club, Tom.

Fine: John Dayton for forgetting the Club camera.

Earl's history corner: Roy Haley was president of the healdsburg Kiwanis Club in 1933. His son, Fred, was president in 1978. Harold Rosenberg was president in 1936 and his son, Garrett was president in 1961. Harold Rosenberg was also a charter member of the Club.

Program: Vince Dougherty introduced David Price, Director of the Sonoma County Libraries, who spoke on that subject. There are 11 libraries in the County, the largest being Santa Rosa and the smallest Occidental. Healdsburg has the most recent and the most beautiful, and contains one of the top ten Wine Libraries in the world. (Healdsburg Kiwanians should be proud that they originated the seed money to start the collection through their Wine Auction). The library system is not part of the Cities nor the County, but is an independent authority created in 1970, and derives its income from a share of property taxes. Two and a half million people visited the county libraries last year. School libraries are rated the lowest in support of all the states and D.C. No elementary school in the State has a library. A most informative talk.
