TUESDAY

NOVEMBER 6, 1934

At last at hand, NOVEMBER SIXTH. A day we've heard about and read about for these past many weeks. Surely it concerns us much - does this election day. Who shall be the standard bearer for this Golden State of ours? In general, what type of officers are to represent us? It's up to us to rubber stamp the best of 'em, and forget all the rest of 'em.

And while we're speaking of election - because of Upton's promise that all blessings shall shower on us, - shall we Sinclair-ize Kiwanis?

OR,

Have we a sort of feeling of a much more even keeling - if with FRANK we do our dealing?

But lest we delve into forbidden politics, let's get down to firmer footing, and tell of something else to transpire on this same November 6th. We are going to hear about the value of a university to a State; and something about college life in general. Chairman Paul Crabb will present Mr. Edward Cullen, a college boy from Berkeley. College boys and girls in action is always an interesting theme. We wonder if this U.C. boy will describe that glorious victory - how they saved the goal posts from those thieves from Santa Clara.

Just a word of comment on that speech of Claxton Rhodes. Roy sure did shine in bringing to us this able speaker. This gentleman had even the stand pat reactionaries nodding Amen to his analysis of the concepts of the New Deal. One of the very best of speeches this club has ever heard. To other service clubs we commend Claxton Rhodes.

"To The Builder; Greeting. Just another meeting". So sayeth "Slim" Price, chairman for to day. So, who's who, and what's what is nobody's business but Slim's. We knocked on Slim's door, and sure enough, it was opened unto us; we asked (for information) but did not receive. And thereby, away goes the good old Scriptural teaching. But it is a corollary that shooting ducks in the Bay regions and arranging Kiwanis programs in Healdsburg do not go hand in hand. However, maybe we'll have a duck dinner, and hopefully some able speaker - who knows ?

Last week we had a man who is the kind to set his listeners thinking. Doctor Boyer is well versed in the business of watching wayward youths, and he has something concrete to offer concerning the problems involved. All the Doctor has to do is to unload - so pregnant is he with that which spells juvenile probation.

Wouldn't it be right nice if every man had on his Red Cross button to day ? And wouldn't it be just alright, too, if a dime were to be extracted from each defaulting member ? What do you say, Russ ? Sargent at Arms, don't you think this would be O K ? Alright, bring the button or the coin yourselves and set a good example.

Hank is gone to the South; Harold is back from the East. Lin reappeared on the scene and looked as if he might come again to day. Bill has crushed his last load of grapes and is due to return pretty pronto. Depression has vamosed, business is good, down at Undertaker Fred's these days. "Thanksgiving Turkeys", Wednesday Night attraction at Larry's.
