Now, that the Golden Bear has been rescued from the Red; that it took a flock of resentful cubs to save the bruin, "Alma Mater"; that the great big Red could be subdued only by a horde of the Gold and Blues - U.C. why Stanford is champion de luxe of the Pacific Coast. While The Builder is a neutral organ, yet, for the time being we're for Stanford, - this until some of the glamour of Bill Rumbold's moral victory wears off, and until the Reds whip the Crimson Tide at Pasadena.

But, if you ask what this has to do with the meeting for to day, the point is well taken. So, without further procrastination, here's the dope: H.C. and K.C. will be in the limelight at the head table to day, - H.C. the chairman, and K.C. (Knights of Columbus) Trip, the speaker. Now, a lot could be said here about the gentleman who comes from below. We'll leave this to Chairman Harold. It may be stated, however, that Mr. Trip comes from the North German Lloyd Steamship Company; that he will talk on foreign trade and governmental activities. Harold says: "Tell all the boys to be on hand and hear a sound discussion on a big subject by a big man. This speaker's words will have appeal to men of industries right here at home". Harold says further to tell Lin Gilbert to lay off that lumber business and come to Kiwanis this particular day. He claims, too, it's high time for Bill Massoni to forget that eau de vis and rejoin the club on time to hear Mr. Trip. In short, this chairman wants to show off his big gun before a one hundred per cent attendance. Can this be done? Let your presence be your guide.

TUESDAY

DECEMBER 11, 1934.

Comes to day from the San Francisco home office Mr. C. C. Camp in a talk and demonstrations on the commodity which made John D. famous - and somewhat rich to boot. Not hard to guess the chairman, whose stamping ground is across the river bridge, or as Russ would say, "down near the gas works". Chairman Bob Bruce will be bobbing up and down 'twixt president and speaker, and he will, or may, ask the boys to sing Praise John From Whom Oil Blessings Flow.

Didn't we get our money worth last week? When putting on a program Harold Miller (not H. C. this time) has his own ideas. Mr. Trip's reciprocity, Joe Briggandi's orchestra and monologue, plus Earl Showers' miraculous xylophone executions - altogether argue that Harold doesn't do things by the halves.

What right had a certain sporting member attempt to place a wager with the Secretary on last week's referendum, and right within the polls? He was before the Kiwanis Court once before, and then and there was given the works. Don't you recall, he was found hanging around Jack Wood's West Street rendezvous? And several other joints as well. Just one other charge, and out the window he must go. He should be finger-printed next.

The hour is getting late, and the editor has some symptoms of flu. Hope you won't contract it after reading this.
