CHAIRMAN, CLINT ROBINSON

SPEAKER, DR. HAROLD CAPP

The Doctor will speak on Application of Atomic Products, Civilian and Military. Being Atomic Research Investigator.

That Battle of the Rhine was a humdinger, the speaker, Col. Wayne Winder being right in the midst of it. Wonder that he was with us to tell the tale. And in his "side talk" on the National Guard we were happy in the knowledge that the Chairman of the Day, Bill Sanderson is none other than Commander of our local unit. Thanks, Bill, for the fine program.

This Tuesday Eve. at Chuck's, directors meet. Make up, you truants.

What a gathering of the Clans ! We mean, probably. And in the big city, New York. President Walt and "Jo", after the International Convention, hope to join Walt Marshall and "Kay"; Jess Ratchford and Zelma; Slim Price and Ross. Some double quartette, this! And some time they're bound to have. All of which is scheduled for this "Merry Month of Jun&."

Those songs last week ! "Seeing Nellie Home" and "Kiwanis Comrade Song" - put across in fine fashion, under Jess' leadership. The best warbling in one long time. Let's have more of the old and revered selections. Takes us back to our school days.

Next week, June 14th, our annual reception for the high school graduates. Preparations well under way for the big event. None should be absent that day. A joyful day for those girls and boys; joyful, too, for us boys of yore - but no more. Sad, isn't it ?

Another annual gala day for the high school graduates, our guests at Noonday lunch. We award Kiwanis plaque to selected student. Then too, some fortunate girl or boy will be recipient of a certificate representing scholarship award. A hundred dollar plum when the grantee actually matriculates at school of higher instruction.

Each of us is to get a boy or girl (more happily the latter) under his wing for special attention and entertainment.

Chairman Roy Haley announces as guest speaker Dr. E. H. Steffelbach, Regional Survey Director of the California Commission on School Districts. This speaker is a gentleman of many parts, with enviable life experiences.

Subject of great moment - Atomic Products - was deeply dealt with by Dr. Harold Capp, research investigator de luxe. No wonder you could hear a pin drop while this speaker was expounding. One of our programs which sets us thinking. Thanks to Clint Robinson, Chairman.

Good news from Charlie Comstock. He's getting out around these fine days. The old boy has made a gallant fight. Hope you'll be back with us soon, Charles.

Great success, the minstrel show. Large credit due Walt Cullen, Bill Wolking, Cotton Williams - these in particular - for putting it across to the tune of $177 in favor of Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Kiwanis baseball. And what a formidable line-up! Enough to scare the daylights of any and all competitors - Rotary, Twenty-Thirty - any team having the nerve to face the following horsehide scalpers, Gibbs, Wright, Wittke, Kennedy, VanCleave, Williams, Iversen, Barbieri, Ludcke, Campbell, Rosenberg, Martin, Passalacqua. Played one game already. Beat 'em too.

This P.M. President Walt and his "Jo" are off for International Convention, Atlantic City. A chapter in the life of any Kiwanian.

CHAIRMAN, IVAN ANDERSON

SPEAKER, HENRY KENT

SUBJECT: Experiences in Counter Intelligence, Last Year.

- - - - -

Entertaining the high school graduates, no nicer time during these many years than that of Tuesday last. In fact, each annual session appears an improvement over past "performances."

Our men took good care of the girls and boys. Dinner sumptuous; singing superb; and an all-round jollification.

Kiwanis Placque went to a marvelous boy, Keith Walker; and to an equally worthwhile boy, Bob Luzzi, was awarded the annual Kiwanis Scholarship of One Hundred Dollars.

President Walt, always in happy mood, did the opening up. Roy was in best of form as Chairman. Russ put the speaker on his feet in an introduction such as can't be beaten by anyone in the whole of U.S.A. and Canada.

And the guest speaker - Dr. E. H. Staffelbach - Was there ever a more fitting address to a graduating class? "Make your plan for life work. Have faith in your plan. WORK for its success."

The speech, the class itself. And the man - outstanding.

The big Convention in full swing this day. And Healdsburg is there, in the personage of President Walt Wright. How can it go wrong? What a privilege; what an enviable experience for anyone. Let's have Convention spirit to day. Sing Hail Kiwanis.

Vacation time. Some vacant chairs to day. But the boys'll make up.
